HUMBERSTON, Mrs. Clara E. Speight — Born May 8, 1862, Acton West, Halton County, daughter of Samuel Drake and Elizabeth (Van Viack) Speight. Educated: public and Normal Schools. Taught school. Author of the Chart,

MRS. CLARA E. SPEIGHT HUMBERSTON

"Birds of Canada in Relation to Agriculture," prepared under supervision of the Department of Education of the Provincial Government of Ontario for use in the Schools of Canada as an aid to Nature Study. Published the "Spherical Bacteria Cell, the Constructor of the Earth and Her Life, through the Radioactive Construction of Electro-Magnetic Particles," February, 1906, in which was demonstrated the fact that the Hydrogen Atom as a unit weight in the world of chemisty was duplicated in the world of life as the Spherical Bacteria Cell. Four months later J. J. Thomson, professor of Chemistry in London University, proved experimentally the unit weight of the Hydrogen Atom in nature's constructions, something undreamed of in the world of chemistry before this. Published "The Origin of the Chemical Elements and of Cell Life," 1914. Writer on Natural History for Scientific American, Montreal Herald and Farmer's Advocate, "Why the Chameleon Changes Color of Skin" (being pronounced the best scientific explanation ever given). Mrs. Humberston is an untiring investigator of nature. "The Spherical Bacteria Cell, the Chemical Constructor of the Earth and Her Life," has brought her into prominence before the scientific world. Published "Spiritism the Hidden Secret in Einstein's Theory of Relativity," 1922. Her writings on Natural History subjects evidence an acute perception of Nature's forces in directing her different forms of life. Has gained considerable prominence as Lecturer on "The Origin of Form," as an evolutionary process of light, her description of "An Ice Storm," as a word picture being equal to anything ever given from a public platform (Mail and Empire, Toronto). Appointed Local Secretary, the International Fixed Calendar League for Cincinnati and Southern Ohio, 1924; Member of the Association for the Advancement of Science; Member, Royal Astronomical Society of France. Married September 6, 1881, S. T. Humberston, Newtonbrook, York County; has one son and one daughter. Clubs: Progressive Research (Toronto), 1908-17; Borden (Edmonton); I.O.D.E. articles, chiefly on French Canada; has recently collaborated with the Hon. Justice E. F. Surveyer, in a sketch of the history of "The Bench and Bar of Quebec." As a lecturer, Miss Heneker was engaged by the Association of Canadian Clubs, at Ottawa, to tour Ontario during winters of 1927 and 1929, speaking on "The Seigneurial Regime in Canada" and on "The Early History of the Seigniory of Montreal." Has also lectured in various other centres on "the Art of Town Planning," "Child Labor Laws of the Province of Quebec," "The Property Rights of Married Women Under the Common Law" besides purely historical subjects: "The Life of Louis Hebert," "Early Industries Under the French Regime," and "Sidelights on the Life of the Early French Colonists." Entered a competition inaugurated by the Montreal Suffrage Association, in the Province of Quebec, 1929, winning a $50.00 gold prize with her essay on "The History of Woman Suffrage in the Province of Quebec." In the business world, Miss Heneker became associated with the Montreal branch of the financial house of Wood, Gundy & Co., Ltd., in connection with department for Women's investments, later resigning to enter law firm of Heneker & Holt, where she has remained until the present time. For many years has taken an active interest in social and philanthropic activities. President, Women's Branch of the Canadian Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; Secretary, Montreal Women's Branch, Navy League of Canada; President, Iverley Settlement; Secretary-Treasurer, Women's Branch of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of the Chateau de Ramezay. Latterly, has become especially interested in the activities of Business and Professional women and was elected President, Montreal Business and Professional Women's Club, 1928. At a Convention in Winnipeg, July, 1930, was appointed first Dominion President of the newly-organized "Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs" and was chosen to represent Canada at the First "International Conference of Business and Professional Women," held at Geneva, Switzerland, August, 1930. At this Geneva meeting an "International Federation of Business and Professional Women" was formed and Miss Heneker was appointed Corresponding Secretary of the new organization. Miss Heneker thinks that a great future lies before business and professional women. She feels that it is slowly but surely being recognized that "qualification and capacity," regardless of sex, will eventually become one of the basic principles governing employment and furthermore, that the creation of a sympathetic understanding and co-operation, between the business and professional women of all nations, will go far towards promoting peaceful relationships between the countries of the world. FISHER, Margaret Brydie — Born Toronto, Ont., September 7, 1877, daughter of John C. and Mary Landon Laidlaw. Educated: public and high schools (Harbord), Toronto, Ont. Appointed Member, Board of Directors, Infants' Home and Infirmary, St. Mary's and St. Nicholas Sts., Toronto, 1918, and shortly after inaugurated the present system of placing children in private foster homes under nursing and medical inspection and supervision, directly resulting, within six years, in reducing the mortality rate from fifty per cent. to less than one per cent. The Home itself is now superfluous, and will probably be disposed of in the near future. Dr. Hastings, M.O.H. of Toronto, at the fiftieth annual meeting, heartily endorsed the system, and declared that a mother's arms and care, even though it be a foster-mother's, is as necessary to proper development as any group of vitamins, and constitutes the most valuable therapeutic agent in child welfare. Commenting on Mrs. Fisher's work, he said: "It is a truly marvelous achievement and one that is not surpassed anywhere." Government appointee, Mothers' Allowance Board, 1924; active in War Campaign, under Y.M.C.A., raised $80,000 at very small expense; organized Soldiers' Comforts Bazaar at Parkdale Canoe Club. JOHN MURPHY

MURPHY, John—Consulting Hydro-Electric Expert, Department of Railways and Canals, Railway Commission and other Federal Departments, Ottawa, Ont. Born Ottawa, Ont., December 17, 1868, son of James Murphy, Contractor, Ottawa, Ont., and Mary (Conway) Murphy. Educated: Primary and high schools; University of Ottawa (graduated in 1884, before Courses in Electrical Engineering were in vogue). Intimately connected with hydro-electric development since 1885. His publication of the respective quantitative values of the (a) water, (b) ice, and (c) iron at hydraulic power houses, and of their respective temperatures—varying at times only in thousandths of one degree—created international attention, as did also his unique moving pictures demonstrating the practicability of his original work in preventing frazil from adhering to submerged things. By the employment of minute amounts of heat, electric light, power, street-car and water services are no longer stopped by ice. Professor of Physics at University of Ottawa, discovering his "scientific trend," started him in telephone work, from which he stepped in 1885 to the newly-developed electric light, power and later, traction business. Chairman, Ottawa Branch, Engineering Institute of Canada, 1916-17; President, Canadian National Committee Electro-technical Commission, 1927-36. MIGNAULT, Colonel Arthur — Physician. Born September 29, 1866. Immediately on the outbreak of the war, Colonel Mignault offered his services to the Government in any capacity for which he might be qualified. His offer of $50,000 for the formation and equipment of a Regiment of Infantry to be composed of and officered by French-Canadians, was accepted by Prime Minister Sir Robert Borden. The appeal for recruits received the cordial endorsement of every French-Canadian newspaper in the Province of Quebec, as well as the politicians of both parties. This first French-Canadian unit was named the 22nd French-Canadian Battalion, and was raised to full strength in less than a month. He thereupon received permission to raise a second unit named the 41st French-Canadian Battalion, recruited to full strength in a few weeks. On completion of these two units, Colonel Mignault was given command of No. 4 Stationary Hospital. These two French-Canadian units were in England, Shorncliffe Camp, May 1, 1915. Colonel Mignault was assigned to the French Army in Command of a Hospital unit, which took the name of No. 8 General Hospital in Paris. He also commanded No. 6 General Hospital (Laval). Was decorated with the Legion of Honor by the French Government. Was Overseas two years, and on his return to Canada his work was appreciated by the Military Department in a letter sent to him by General Sir Eugene Fiset to the effect that no expense had been incurred by the Department of Militia for recruiting the 22nd and 41st Battalions, C.E.F., and for No. 4 Stationary Hospital of St. Cloud, and expressing great appreciation of Colonel Mignault's generosity and devotedness on behalf of the Prime Minister, Minister of Militia and the whole French-Canadian race. ALFRED GORDON CAMERON

WRIGHT, William Henry — Owner, Globe and Mail; Vice-President, Lake Shore Mines, Limited; Director, Wright, Hargreaves Mines, Limited. Born Sleaford, Lincolnshire, England, April 21, 1876, son of the late Henry and Annie (Butler) Wright, both of Lincolnshire, England. Educated: Schools of Sleaford; Gosberton Hall School. Mr. Wright served a trade apprenticeship before enlisting in the Army, at the age of twenty. For seven years thereafter, from 1896 to 1903, he served with the colors of the Twentieth, Eighth, Eleventh and Eighteenth Hussars in England, Ireland, India, South Africa and Egypt. It was with the Eighteenth Hussars that he served through the South African War and went through the siege of Ladysmith. After an interlude of a few years' work in England, Mr. Wright came to Canada in 1907, with a determination to "make good" in a country whose resources and opportunities had been suggested to him by friends who had preceded him. He spent a short time in Toronto and vicinity and, in 1908, went to Cobalt and began his career of mining explorer. In the autumn of 1911, he made the first gold discovery in the Kirkland Lake field, on what is now the Wright, Hargreaves Mine, and thereby initiated development in a district which has since produced millions in gold. Later, he staked part of what is now the Lake Shore property, which has since developed into one of the best-managed and premier producers of the north. Mr. Wright served with the C.E.F., 1916-19, enlisting with the A.S.C., transferring in England to the 75th Battalion, with which he served for a time in France. Later transferred to the Third Divisional Ammunition Column, and returned to Canada to be demobilized in 1919. Mr. Wright conducts one of the largest breeding farms and racing stables in the Dominion. Bachelor. Recreation: horses. Residence: Peel St., Barrie, Ont.
